SMCR at-a-glance

- Originally rolled out to the banking sector in 2016, the Senior Managers and Certification Regime (SMCR) was extended to all regulated firms (~47,000) in December 2019. Learn about SMCR; what it is, what it means and why it matters.
- This regime affects all FCA regulated firms including non-UK firms with permission to carry out regulated activities in the UK, the workshop focuses on three key areas:
 - The Senior Managers Regime
 - The Certification Regime
 - Conduct Rules
- Firms are required, by FSMA 64B, to train relevant staff on how Conduct Rules apply to their role and a Senior Manager is required to be allocated the prescribed responsibility (PR) for this.
- Failure to adhere to the conduct rules creates an obligation for regulated firms to report to the FCA

Who should attend?

Senior Managers who fall under the SMF categorisation and need to ensure they are fully aligned to their obligations as part of SMCR

Significant harm functions employees (aka certified persons) who are now subject to SMCR conduct rules but may yet to be certified as competent by their organisation

Professionals in support functions for SMCR such as HR, Compliance, Legal and Technology who require a front-to-back overview

Financial Markets,
Compliance & Regulations

Matt is our Founder and a passionate trainer.

His interest in education stems from his 10 years as an Account Executive looking after Global Hedge Fund and Asset Management clients. Matt quickly discovered that many of the financial market topics that his clients wanted to learn about were the exact same topics that he was striving to develop a better understanding of himself.

This led Matt to join the coveted Financial Markets Education team at UBS, a unique in-house education team that specialised in running a curriculum of financial market and product classes for both UBS employees and clients. Matt was responsible for building out the client offering; managing programs, creating content and teaching courses.

As financial markets entered a significant period of regulatory change Matt pivoted to take his client experience and market knowledge to focus on Regulations and Compliance topics.

Matt leverages his time spent as an attendee of training and fuses this with his deep markets knowledge and regulatory expertise to deliver engaging training designed to decipher complexity and equip learners with the knowledge they need to remain compliant and competent within their roles.

Matt leads on our Compliance & Regulations offerings.
